GENERAL DVDs

- D515 School of Secrets (DVD, 55 minutes)
Charts the course of discovery, inaction, and reaction when participants, teachers, and a community are confronted with the shocking truth about a high school outdoor educational program and the consequences for the young women who chose to expose its secret. (Moving Images) (LB 2844.1 C54 S367 2007)
- D868 Talking About Child Sex Abuse (DVD, 28 minutes)
Cordelia Anderson, a nationally recognized expert, advises parents who want to know, "How do I talk to my children about sexual abuse?" Two child victims share their stories. "Johnny" was abused by an uncle when he was 10 years old. His mom had warned him about "stranger danger," but Johnny was confused because the perpetrator was a member of the family. "Melissa," 11, was abused at home by a close friend of the family. Her parents thought she was safe when she was at home. The viewer will learn how to lower a child's risk of victimization. (You Have the Power) (HV 6570 T253 2000)

GENERAL VIDEOS

- V1376 Against Violence: Women in a Violent Society Conference Keynote Highlights (video, 54 minutes)

ABORIGINAL PEOPLES - VIDEOS

- V843 A Circle of Healing (video, 55 minutes)
Man Alive program looks at sexual abuse in native communities, particularly in the Alkali Lake community. It concentrates on native people that were sexually abused as children, on the psychological effects of sexual abuse and on group therapy as a cure. It also traces the root of the problem to the residential school system. (CBC) (E 98 C5 C574 1989)
- V2487 Hollow Water (49 minutes)
Hollow Water is a Canadian Ojibway reserve in central Manitoba that has organized itself to address the large number of sexually abused victims in their community. Volunteers from the community have formed the Community Holistic Circle Healing (CHCH) to help offenders and victims stop the cycle of sexual abuse. This documentary demonstrates how CHCH has been more effective through the peer pressure process rather than jailing offenders. (National Film Board of Canada) (HV 6570 H648 2000)
- V904 Piitaa Pookaiksi: Children of the Eagle (video, 30 minutes)

POLICE INVESTIGATION - VIDEOS

V2290 Fifth Estate: From the Mouths of Children (video, 46 minutes)
In some troubling cases in North America and Europe, a single allegation of child abuse became an avalanche of charges of ritual occult abuse. Authorities have accepted the theories of a small group of "experts" who insist that children can only tell the truth in such cases. The Fifth Estate looks into the investigative process during which children often undergo punishing, repetitive interviews and adults who lose their reputations. Features the Martensville case in Saskatchewan. (CBC International Sales)

TREATMENT OF SEXUALLY ABUSED CHILDREN - VIDEOS

- V934 Good Things Can Still Happen (video, 21 minutes)
This is an interactive package for therapists and other professionals to use when working with sexually abused children. This animated video is meant to help abused children ages 6 to 12 who have already disclosed abuse. (National Film Board) (HQ 71 G657 1992)
- V1504 Good Things Too (video, 48 minutes)
A drama about five teens struggling to survive sexual abuse. As their stories unfold, their past is illuminated by animated flashback sequences. Shows painful and difficult memories as well as moments of triumph and success. (National Film Board of Canada) (HQ 71 G658 1996)
- V1251 Kirstie's Story: Responding to Sexual Abuse Allegations Involving Children with Disabilities (video, 48 minutes)
This program was developed to provide a framework for key responders to begin to explore issues that arise when an allegation of sexual abuse involves a child with a disability. It is a fictional portrayal of the experiences of an adolescent with a mental handicap who discloses sexual abuse. It is intended to stimulate discussion concerning responses to sexual abuse allegations involving children with other types of disabilities as well, including those with more complex communication needs than Kirstie. The video presents fictional vignettes of Kirstie's story, from identifying indicators of sexual abuse to preparing for the investigative interview. Following each vignette, discussions with B.C. practitioners highlight key issues. The facilitator's guide for conducting a workshop includes exercises, handouts and overheads. (Justice Institute of British Columbia Interdisciplinary Studies) (HV 6570 K577 1994 - Oversized)
- V1000 Mastering Traumatic Memories Video I: Introduction, Interview, Abreaction (video, 92 minutes)
This video provides a comprehensive introduction, as well as a role play preparatory and a role-play planned abreactive session. Topics include: indicators for not doing abreactive work, controlling intense affect, ideomotor signals, safety for vulnerable alter personalities, hypnotic induction and time distortion.
