INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Governors of the Justice Institute of British Columbia, and To the Minister of Advanced Education, Province of British Columbia

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Justice Institute of British Columbia, which comprise the statement of financial position as at March 31, 2012, the statements of operations and changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes, comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on our judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, we consider internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Justice Institute of British Columbia as at March 31, 2012 and its results of operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

Notes to Financial Statements

Year ended March 31, 2012

1. Purpose of the Institute:

The Justice Institute of British Columbia (the "Institute") is a post-secondary educational institution established in 1978 by the Province of British Columbia (the "Province") under the provisions of the College and Institute Act. The Institute is exempt from income tax under the Income Tax Act. The mission of the Institute is to provide innovative education for practitioners and the public in the fields of justice and public safety.

2. Significant accounting policies:

(a) Basis of presentation:

These financial statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

(b) Capital assets:

Capital assets are recorded at cost less accumulated amortization. Any unamortized balance is written off when the asset is disposed of or no longer used by the Institute. Amortization is provided on a straight-line basis over the useful lives of the assets as follows:

Asset Period

Site improvements

Buildings

Furniture, equipment and vehicles (including computer equipment)

Personal computer equipment and peripherals

Leasehold improvements

10 years
40 years
3 to 5 years
lease term

(c) Revenue recognition:

The Institute follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions.

Contributions from the Province are recognized as follows:

- "Base" funding contributions are recognized as revenue in the year in which the contributions are received or receivable.
- "Other" funding contributions are recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are incurred.

Tuition fees are recognized as revenue in the period the course is conducted. Fees received prior to the year end where the course is delivered subsequent to the year end are recorded as deferred revenue.

Contract revenues are recognized in the period in which the related activities are performed. The zero profit margin method is used when a contract's financial outcome is not reasonably determinable. This method of accounting requires that equal amounts of revenue and expense be recognized until the financial outcome of a contract can be reasonably estimated. Provision for anticipated losses is made in the period in which they become evident.

Contributions received for capital asset acquisitions are recorded as deferred capital contributions and recognized as revenue on the same basis as the related capital assets are depreciated. Contributions of or relating to the acquisition of non-depreciable assets are recognized as direct increases in net assets when received.

Contributions, tuition fees and contract services are recognized as revenue in accordance with the applicable recognition criteria above when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

(d) Use of estimates:

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenditures during the reporting period. Areas of significant estimates include useful lives of capital assets for amortization, accrued losses on contracts and employee benefits payable. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

(e) Financial instruments:

The Institute accounts for its financial instruments in accordance with the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants ("CICA") Handbook Section 3855, Financial Instruments – Recognition and Measurement, and as permitted for not-for-profit organizations, CICA Handbook Section 3861, Financial Instruments – Disclosure and Presentation.

All financial instruments are measured at the balance sheet date at fair value except for loans and receivables, held to maturity investments and other financial liabilities, which are measured at amortized cost.

The Institute classifies its cash and cash equivalents as held for trading, which are measured at fair value. Accounts receivable is classified as loans and receivables, which are measured at amortized cost. Accounts payable and accrued liabilities are classified as other financial liabilities, which are measured at amortized cost.

2. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(f) Inventories:

Inventories, consisting of books and materials held in the bookstore for sale, are recorded at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost is determined based on weighted average costing. Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated selling expenses. When conditions indicate that losses previously recognized have been recovered, the loss is reversed to the extent of the amount recovered.

(g) Related party transactions:

The Institute is related through common control to all Province of British Columbia ministries, agencies, crown corporations, school districts, health authorities, universities, colleges and institutes that are included in the provincial government reporting entity. Transactions with these entities, unless disclosed otherwise, are in the normal course of operations and are recorded at the exchange amount, which is amount of consideration established and agreed to by the related parties.

(h) Future accounting policies:

Changes in accounting framework:

Effective April 1, 2012, the Institute will transition to a new accounting framework which will include Public Sector Accounting Standards supplemented by directives from the Government of British Columbia's Treasury Board.

The transition to the new accounting framework will be applied on a retrospective basis. The Institute is reviewing the impact of these changes on the financial statements.

4. Employee future benefits:

(a) Pensions:

The Institute and its employees contribute to the College Pension Plan and Municipal Pension Plan, jointly trusteed pension plans. The board of trustees for these plans represent plan members and employers and are responsible for the management of the pension plan including investment of the assets and administration of benefits. The pension plans are multi-employer contributory pension plans. Basic pension benefits provided are defined. The College Pension Plan has about 13,000 active members from college senior administration and instructional staff and approximately 5,000 retired members. The Municipal Pension Plan has about 173,000 active members, with approximately 5,600 from colleges.

The most recent actuarial valuation for the College Pension Plan as at August 31, 2009 indicated a $28 million deficit for basic pension benefits. The next valuation will be as at August 31, 2012 with results available in 2013. The most recent actuarial valuation for the Municipal Pension Plan as at December 31, 2009 indicated a $1,024 million deficit for basic pension benefits. The next valuation will be as at December 31, 2012 with results available in 2013.

The actuary does not attribute portions of the unfunded liability to individual employers. The Institute records pension expenses as cash contributions to the Plans are made.

During the year, the Institute contributed $1,599,354 (2011 - $1,511,614) to the above Plans.

(b) Other employee benefits:

The Institute accrues vacation and retirement entitlements for employees as earned. However, revenue related to funding for these is not accrued, as the Province does not provide special funding for vacations and retiring allowances. As the majority of employees are paid salaries, management anticipates that vacation accruals will be reversed when these employees take their standard vacations and that no additional funding will be required above authorized salaries.

Employees who are members of the BC Government and Services Employees' Union are entitled to earned benefits related to retirement allowances. The liability and expense for these post-employment benefits is recognized in the financial statements in the period in which employees render services and on the basis that the benefits are expected to be provided when the employees are no longer providing active service.

In 2009, the Institute engaged the services of an actuarial firm to evaluate its employee future benefits plans. As a result of this estimate, an increase of employee future benefit liability

The Institute is not subject to any other external capital requirements or restrictions.
