Emergency Medical Assistant Education Fund Application Package

Administered by the Justice Institute of British Columbia
Student Services Office

THE EMA EDUCATION FUND

The Emergency Medical Assistant (EMA) Education Fund began in 2007 as the result of a $3 Million donation from the Emergency and Health Services Commission to the Vancouver Foundation, with the mandate that the Vancouver Foundation would utilize those funds to support the training and development of paramedics in British Columbia, particularly those in rural and remote British Columbia communities.

To that end, an advisory committee was created, consisting of representatives from the BC Ambulance Service, the Ambulance Paramedics of BC (Canadian Union of Public Employees (CUPE) Local 873), BC health authorities, and the Union of BC Municipalities. The role of the EMA Education Fund Advisory Committee is to determine how best to utilize these funds, develop criteria for the disbursement of those funds, and to select the candidates who will receive those funds.

Currently, the EMA Education Fund provides funding to individuals who wish to pursue training leading towards certification and licensure as Primary Care Paramedics (PCP) and Advanced Care Paramedics (ACP) in British Columbia. Bursaries for the PCP program are $5000, while bursaries for the ACP program are $17,500.

GOALS OF THE FUND

The EMA Education Fund is tasked with achieving the following goals:

- Increase the number of PCP-licensed paramedics living and working in rural or remote areas of British Columbia.
- Increase the number of ACP-licensed paramedics in all areas of British Columbia

These goals will be achieved by providing the financial support necessary for paramedic students to obtain their PCP or ACP licenses.

AWARD SELECTION

All applicants will be notified via email of the results of their application.

Unfortunately, there are limited funds available each period and we are unable to assist all of the eligible applicants. If you are not successful, however, you are encouraged to re-apply for the next eligibility period.

EMA Education Fund Advisory Committee selects students for awards. Decisions of the EMA Education Fund Advisory Committee are final.

Letter of Intention

In order to show your intention of working in a rural, northern or remote area of BC, we recommend that PCP applicants contact the BC Ambulance Service Human Resources Office to provide a letter of support.

How will I find out if I have been selected for an award?

Award funds are limited; therefore we are unable to assist all applicants. Within three weeks after the deadline has passed, an email will be sent to the email address provided on the Award application notifying you of the results of your application.

If I qualify for an award, when will I receive my funds?

An award notification letter sent to your email address will include additional instructions regarding your funds. Typically funds are credited to your student account and are used toward tuition fees. Payments toward tuition are normally applied in two or more installments and a living allowance award made near the end of the program. How your funds will be allocated will be outlined in your notification letter.

Students who are not yet accepted to or enrolled in a program must provide proof of enrollment at time of Award approval, in order for any funds to be released. Proof of enrollment consists of a copy of your acceptance letter from the institution you will be attending.

How long will my funds be available?

Depending upon when you apply for an award, we recognize your program may not start right away. Because your funds are used primarily for tuition fees, you will have one (1) year from the time you were awarded the EMA Award to use the funds. After one year, the funds will be withdrawn.

In what denominations are awards granted?

Students could be eligible for up to $5,000 each for taking the Primary Care Paramedic Program and up to $17,500 each for taking the Advanced Care Paramedic Program. Funds are disbursed incrementally in order to cover tuition and other program related expenses at the time these expenses are incurred.

Why are PCP students who live and work in, or are willing to work in rural, northern or remote areas of British Columbia being favored to receive an award over those in urban centres?

There is a severe shortage of primary care paramedics working in rural, northern and remote areas of the province. The EMA Education Fund Awards were established to address this shortage by encouraging more people to consider living and working as primary care paramedics in these areas of BC.

Are ACP students favored to receive an award in the same way as PCP students?

No. There is a severe shortage of advanced care paramedics working in all areas of BC so those in rural, northern or remote areas are not favored to receive an award over those in urban centres.

Are there other sources of awards available?

Do you or your family have affiliations with service clubs, organizations or athletic teams? They may offer awards or bursaries. Employers sometimes provide bursaries for employees or dependents of employees. There are also bursaries offered through the government for students entering Health Care fields. The JIBC offers bursaries to eligible JIBC students who demonstrate financial need. The JIBC's Financial Aid office has information on private bursaries offered by organizations. Check the Student Services Website at <http://jibc.ca/student-services/financial-aid-awards> for more information.

Note: Any misrepresentation of your financial need will result in a penalty, which could include, but is not limited to, ineligibility to be considered for future awards and forfeit of any outstanding award.

Before completing, please read the information provided on pages 2-4 of the application package. Ensure that each and every question is answered. Failure to complete all sections could result in disqualification of your application. Please fax or mail to the address below.
