

Trauma-Informed Practice (TIP) Webinar Series

Webinar #3: Trauma-Informed Approaches to Working with Persons with Disabilities

(JIBC course code COUN-1045)

Date: February 18, 2020

Time: 2 pm - 3 pm

Please join Karen Martin of Disability Alliance BC for our third webinar in the TIP Webinar Series, Trauma-Informed Approaches to Working with Persons with Disabilities.

During this one-hour TIP webinar, Karen will discuss:

- Historical and Ongoing Systemic Trauma
- 2 Case Studies of Persons with Disabilities
- Assessing Your Practices
- Integrating and Applying TIP Strategies

The webinar will conclude with a Q&A session with Karen. Submit your questions to Karen prior to or during the webinar through tip-jpsav@jibc.ca. Note: Your privacy is important to us. We will not share or disclose your identity or place of work during the Q&A session.

Who Should Attend:

The TIP Webinar Series is intended for all members of the justice, public safety and anti-violence sectors. For those enrolled in or who have completed the TIP Foundations courses (either online or online and in-person), TIP webinars will solidify what you have learned. For those who are new to TIP, this will be a great introduction to the topic and will provide you with practical takeaways.

Meet your TIP Champion - Karen Martin

Karen Martin has worked with Disability Alliance BC (DABC) since 2004 in the capacity of project development and coordination, research, and curriculum development and training on access and inclusion for people with disabilities. From 2012-2015, DABC partnered with the DisAbled Women's Network (DAWN) Canada on projects addressing violence against people with disabilities.

Karen has continued to coordinate anti-violence projects for DABC creating resources for service organizations and people with disabilities who are victims of crime. Since 2013, Karen has developed and delivered workshops, webinars, and presentations on people and women with disabilities to anti-violence and victim-serving organizations and at provincial and national symposiums and forums. She has been a disability and violence subject matter expert for research and publications for EVA BC and the Provincial Office of Domestic Violence. In 2019, Karen coordinated DABC's Sexual Assault Reporting Options: Increasing Access for Women with Disabilities project, which produced videos, information help sheets and a checklist for service providers. Karen has been a member of the Community Coordination for Women's Safety Working Group since 2014.

Registration Now Open

TIP webinars are free of charge to all members of the justice, public safety and anti-violence community sectors in British Columbia (i.e., police, corrections, Crown, lawyers and victim service/anti-violence programs). There are no prerequisites for this webinar.

Although we have increased registration capacity for this webinar due to high demand, space is still limited to ensure a manageable number of participants for the Q&A session that will conclude the webinar. For this reason, we still anticipate it will fill quickly and recommend you to register early.

If you are unable to register, a recording of this webinar will be made available to those who have enrolled in or completed the online TIP Foundations course.
