Congratulations on reaching this significant milestone. Today we celebrate your academic accomplishments and your commitment to careers grounded in service and community.

As an institute dedicated to public safety, we are proud to prepare students for some of society's most vital roles. Whether you've studied law enforcement, paramedicine, firefighting, emergency management, or another field, you have the potential to change lives – often when people are at their most vulnerable.

Throughout your time at JIBC, you've gained more than knowledge. You have acquired the skills to work as part of a team and learned the critical importance of being compassionate and respecting the dignity of every person. These qualities are essential to the trust and confidence communities will place in you.

As you move forward in your careers, I encourage you to embrace the opportunity – and duty – to understand the Truth of our shared history with Indigenous Peoples and be part of meaningful Reconciliation. You have the power to create lasting, meaningful change within yourself, within your profession, and in the lives of others.

Your career path will bring ever-evolving challenges, courage, tough decisions and great responsibility. But it will also offer the deep fulfillment that comes from making a real difference. Always carry with you the values of service, integrity, and commitment, and know that the work you do matters.

Be proud of your hard work and accomplishments during your time at JIBC. On behalf of all of us at JIBC, I wish you all the best in your future careers.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

(Doctor of Laws, honoris causa)

Jack McGee

The Justice Institute of British Columbia (JIBC) is pleased to present an honorary degree to Jack McGee in recognition of his outstanding and sustained contributions to justice and public safety in B.C. and Canada, as well as his ongoing achievements in community service.

Before his 13-year tenure as President and CEO of JIBC, McGee served in the same role at St. Clair College in Windsor, Ont. Prior to that, McGee spent 32 years as a pilot in the Royal Canadian Navy (RCN) and the Canadian Armed Forces, retiring as a Colonel and base commander at CFB Comox. His military career included deployments during the Cuban Missile Crisis and flying numerous members of the Royal Family, including the Queen and Queen Mother, during Royal visits to Canada.

Since retiring from JIBC in 2012, McGee has served on the West Vancouver Police Board, E-Comm 911 Board, and the executive of the B.C. Association of Police Boards. An active community volunteer, he is a founding board director of the Pacific Autism Family Network and co-founded its First Responder Autism Awareness and Technique Initiative. Since 2009, the initiative has trained thousands of first responders in autism-related challenges and de-escalation techniques.

He has received numerous honours, including the King Charles III Coronation Medal, Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee Medal, the B.C. Achievement Community Award, and an honorary Doctor of Laws from the University of Windsor. He also received lifetime achievement awards from The JIBC Foundation and the Emergency Preparedness for Industry & Commerce Council (EPICC) and was part of the RCN Air Branch recognized with the Canadian Aviation Hall of Fame's "Belt of Orion Award for Excellence."

In recognition of his support for Indigenous communities, McGee was honoured with an Indigenous name by the Sto:lo Nation and blanketed by Qayqayt Chief Rhonda Larrabee.

Rhonda Larrabee

The Justice Institute of British Columbia (JIBC) is pleased to present an honorary degree to Rhonda Larrabee, Chief of Qayqayt First Nation, in recognition of her leadership and lasting contributions to Indigenous governance, justice, and Reconciliation.

Chief Rhonda Larrabee was in her twenties before learning her mother was Indigenous and a survivor of the Kamloops Indian Residential School. Out of respect for her mother's painful memories, Larrabee did not begin exploring her heritage until after her mother's passing in 1985.

Since then, she has led the reinstatement of the Qayqayt First Nation from the "inactive" list with the federal government. The Nation, recognized as the New Westminster Indian Band by all levels of government, is one of the smallest First Nations in Canada and the only one without its own land base as their formal Reserves were shut down in 1916. As chief since 1994, Larrabee has raised the Nation's profile, including inspiring the naming of École Qayqayt Elementary School in New Westminster.

A dedicated advocate for Indigenous rights, cultural preservation, and Reconciliation, she has collaborated with the New Westminster Police Department, unions, and education leaders to build relationships, raise awareness, and integrate Indigenous perspectives into schools.

A familiar presence at JIBC, she offers traditional greetings at convocations and Police Academy graduations, and supports the Institute's Indigenization efforts, underscoring the importance of Indigenous leadership in justice and public safety.

Larrabee is a recipient of the King Charles III Coronation Medal and is an Honorary Fellow of Douglas College. Her story is told in "A Tribe of One," an award-winning National Film Board of Canada (NFB) documentary shown annually to New Westminster high school students.

BOB HULL MEMORIAL AWARD

The Bob Hull Memorial Award recognizes academic achievement by the top graduating student and future law enforcement professional from the Law Enforcement Studies Diploma (LESD) program. The Award was established in memory of Bob Hull, former Deputy Director and Director of JIBC's Police Academy, who passed away in 2006. Hull served in the RCMP for 25 years before retiring as a Staff Sergeant.

I am honoured to be receiving this award. I want to thank my instructors, family and classmates that have helped me along the way, as my success would not be possible without this support. The LESD program has forever changed my journey in chasing a career in law enforcement and I will always be grateful for my time spent at the Justice Institute of British Columbia.”

—George Hayter

To be recognized as a recipient of the Bob Hull Memorial Award is a great honour, and I truly could not have done it without the support of my friends, family, classmates, and instructors at JIBC. The LESD program reignited my passion for academia, and I hope to continue my studies in the fields of law and enforcement.”

—Jessica Lamb

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR'S MEDAL FOR INCLUSION, DEMOCRACY AND RECONCILIATION

The Lieutenant Governor's Medal Program for Inclusion, Democracy and Reconciliation was established in 1979 to celebrate students for their academic excellence. Since 2019, the award also recognizes those who actively promote inclusion, democracy, or reconciliation. B.C. public post-secondary institutions nominate outstanding students, with only 25 recipients selected each year. This year, JIBC proudly recognizes Christian Gulka as the posthumous recipient of this prestigious award.

Christian was everything this award stands for. He was a brilliant student with a positive attitude, and a zest for living. It was evident that paramedicine was his passion as it was going to allow him the opportunity to reach out and help even more than he was already. Christian's greatest gift was his ability to bring people together with great respect and humility and inspire everyone around him to achieve even more than they thought was possible. He was the glue that held us together and I cannot think of a more worthy recipient. ”

—Charlotte Muth,
Primary Care Paramedic Instructor

Congratulations to today's graduates. We wish you all the best with the next stage of your careers.

Justice and public safety professionals are on the front lines every day responding to events, big and small, that impact the public. To provide exceptional service, often in challenging circumstances, these personnel need exceptional education and training.

Many of today's graduates benefited from donor support while at JIBC. While some graduates received donor-funded awards and bursaries, many trained on equipment and with resources funded by donors.

By giving to The Justice Institute of British Columbia Foundation, donors help students pursue their goals and help JIBC provide the exceptional education and training that students need to be successful in their careers.

To learn more about making a donation to help current and future justice and public safety heroes, please visit jibc.ca/foundation or email foundation@jibc.ca.

Every gift is important because every gift makes a difference.
